CONTINUING HEALTH CARE COVERAGE UNDER COBRA

What COBRA Continuation Coverage Is

This chapter contains important information about your spouse's and/or children's right to a temporary extension of retiree medical or vision coverage, referred to as "health plan coverage," from the BNSF Group Benefits Plan under the Consolidated Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act of 1985, as amended – known as COBRA. This temporary extension is called "COBRA continuation coverage." The information that follows generally explains COBRA continuation coverage, when it may become available to your spouse and/or children, and what you need to do to protect the right to receive it.

The right to COBRA continuation coverage was created by a federal law. It can become available to your spouse and/or children when they would otherwise lose retiree medical or vision coverage under the BNSF Group Benefits Plan due to a "COBRA qualifying event." Specific qualifying events are listed in this section.

Eligibility

COBRA continuation coverage will be offered to each person who is a "qualified beneficiary." Any eligible dependent may become a qualified beneficiary if coverage under the BNSF Group Benefits Plan is lost because of a qualifying event described below.

COBRA Qualifying Event

- ▶ Spouse – The spouse of a retiree becomes a qualified beneficiary upon losing health coverage because of divorce or legal separation from the BNSF retiree.
- ▶ Children – An eligible dependent child (or children) of a retiree will become a qualified beneficiary if the child loses health coverage because the child stops meeting the BNSF Group Benefits Plan eligibility requirements for a “dependent child.”

Responsibility for Notification and COBRA Election Deadline

For divorce or legal separation, you or your covered dependent must notify the BNSF Benefits Center by phone at 833-277-8051 that a qualifying event has occurred. Call a representative within 60 days after the date of the event.

For a child’s loss of eligibility for coverage as a dependent child due to aging out, the BNSF Benefits Center will automatically end coverage and mail an election notice.

The BNSF Group Benefits Plan will offer COBRA continuation coverage to your spouse and/or child(ren) as qualified beneficiaries only after the BNSF Benefits Center has been notified that a COBRA qualifying event has occurred.

If the BNSF Benefits Center is not notified of a COBRA qualifying event within 60 days by calling 833-277-8051, your spouse and/or child(ren) will lose the right to continuation coverage under COBRA.

Election Deadline

Within 14 days after receiving notice of a COBRA qualifying event, the BNSF Benefits Center will send an election notice. The beneficiary must enroll in COBRA within 60 days of the date the notice is received or the date BNSF Group Benefits Plan coverage ends due to the qualifying event, whichever is later.

Once the BNSF Benefits Center receives notice that a COBRA qualifying event has occurred, COBRA continuation coverage will be offered to each qualified beneficiary. Each has an independent right to elect coverage. However, you may elect COBRA coverage on behalf of your children.

Cost

If COBRA continuation coverage is elected, the beneficiary must pay the total cost of coverage (both BNSF’s contribution and the retiree contribution), plus a 2% administrative fee, for the entire time the beneficiary has COBRA coverage.

- ▶ The first payment is due no later than 45 days after the beneficiary elects to continue coverage, and it must cover the period beginning on the first day of the beneficiary’s COBRA coverage through the end of the month in which payment is made.
- ▶ For COBRA coverage to remain in effect, the BNSF Benefits Center must receive payment no later than 30 days after the first day of the month for which the payment is due.

Duration of Coverage	COBRA continuation coverage is a temporary continuation of BNSF Group Benefits Plan coverage. When the COBRA qualifying event is divorce or legal separation, or a child’s loss of eligibility as a dependent, COBRA continuation coverage lasts for up to 36 months.
When COBRA Coverage Ends	COBRA continuation coverage will end sooner than the period described above if the BNSF Group Benefits Plan ends and BNSF does not provide replacement health coverage. Coverage also will end if the beneficiary: <ul style="list-style-type: none">▶ Becomes covered under another group health plan after electing COBRA coverage. However, if the new group coverage is limited by a pre-existing condition exclusion, partial coverage will continue up to the remainder of the first 18-month period. The BNSF program will be the primary coverage of the pre-existing condition; the other group health plan will be the primary coverage for all other eligible health care expenses. Monthly premiums for BNSF COBRA coverage must continue to be paid.▶ Does not pay required premiums when due.▶ Becomes eligible for Medicare benefits for the first time after electing COBRA coverage.
If You Have COBRA Questions	If you have questions about the BNSF Group Benefits Plan or a beneficiary’s COBRA continuation coverage rights, call or write to the COBRA Administrator at the address or phone number below. For more information about a beneficiary’s rights under ERISA, and rights to COBRA continuation coverage, contact the nearest Regional or District Office of the U.S. Department of Labor’s Employee Benefits Security Administration (EBSA) or visit the EBSA website at dol.gov/agencies/ebsa.
